2	Call 02 - Project Presidency - Cyprus Presidency	Cyprus Center for European and International Affairs	CY	Non-for-profit organization	Project Presidency - Cyprus Presidency	15000,00	4	EU Citizens, European Institutions, Think-tanks, network of national stakeholders	Objectives and Expected Results: The project will organize a focused, high-level discussion under the theme “Perspectives on the Relationship Between Cyprus and the EU and the Cyprus Problem.” It will address perspectives on the relationship between the EU and the Republic of Cyprus and also assess the relevant issues in relation to the Cyprus problem. The event will bring together senior figures from both the Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot communities, alongside EU-level policy experts. The objective is to contribute meaningfully to the policy reflections of the Cyprus Council Presidency while also sharing Cyprus’s unique perspective within the EU. Expected outcomes include a substantive policy exchange, the creation of a network of relevant actors, and the publication of a Policy Note that captures key takeaways and recommendations for European institutions and stakeholders. This project also reflects the core mission of the EPC’s Project Presidency: to bring national-level insight into the EU’s policy conversation during each rotating Presidency. By bringing together personalities from both Cypriot communities in an academic, policy-oriented setting, this event offers valuable perspectives that enrich the EU’s understanding of Cyprus’s internal dynamics and external positioning. The discussion will not only engage with the Council Presidency’s priorities but will also offer insight into a member state whose internal dynamics are often underrepresented at the European level.
